MISSION STATEMENT

St. Alphonsus Liguori Parish celebrates the living waters of Christ by nourishing our Catholic community spiritually and academically so that Christ may be known in our world.

Featured Saint of the Week

St. Marie of the Incarnation (1599-1672)

Feast: April 30

Born in Tours, France, Marie Guyart married a silk merchant. She had a son, whose father died when he was only six months old. To make ends meet, Marie began running her brother-in-law's business.

When her son turned 12, she entrusted him to her sister and brother-in-law. Marie then became an Ursuline sister, which she felt was her true vocation from an early age. When Marie made her Profession of Vows, she took the name Marie of the Incarnation. She is known to have had mystical visions since the age of 7.

In 1639 Marie and three other Ursulines were sent to Quebec (considered the new world) to establish a school for indigenous people and the daughters of colonists. To communicate more effectively, Marie not only learned the languages but she also wrote dictionaries to teach others. She didn't stop there; she wrote a catechism in Iroquois and sacred history in Algonquin.

She served her community well, and eventually became mother superior. With her experienced background, she was able to supervise the building of a convent and a school. She was also adept at preparing construction plans, plus she supervised the workers, and if needed, she would even climb a scaffold. In addition, she was continuously looking for local women to join the Ursuline order.

She always emphasized the importance of loving God and serving Him with all one's being, holding a profound concern for the salvation of souls and a desire for others to experience the depth of God's love.

Her son, Claude grew up to become a Benedictine priest, and wrote a biography about his mother.

St. Marie of the Incarnation is considered one of the great mystics of the 17th century.
