Featured Saint of the Week

St. Jose Gregorio Hernandez Cisneros (1864-1919)
Feast Day 10/5

Hernandez was born in a small village in Venezuela to devout Catholic parents. By the time he was 13, he expressed interest in going to law school, but his mother persuaded him to pursue a career in medicine instead.

In medical school, his professors described him as a student of outstanding academic performance. He then chose to continue his education in Europe, studying specialized fields of medicine: bacteriology, pathology, and microbiology. Although these fields were in their infancy, Hernandez felt he'd be able to help people even more with his broader knowledge.

He returned to Venezuela to become a leading doctor at the Hospital Jose Maria Vargas. He wanted to dedicate his life to teaching, medicine, and religious practice. He also wanted to become a priest. He made three attempts, but was thwarted by his own medical challenges.

He was glad to once again be in Venezuela because his heart was truly with the poor. He would not charge people who couldn't afford care; he also used his own money to buy their medicines. Despite tremendous political unrest, Hernandez chose to become even more engaged. He viewed medicine as his mission of peace, promoting unity, kindness, and moral responsibility in public life.

Hernandez went to buy and deliver some medicine to one of his patients. While walking, he was hit by a car and subsequently died. The entire nation grieved his passing.

This was not the end of his story. After his death, Venezuela, convinced of his sanctity, began to venerate him. Over the decades, countless testimonies emerged of miraculous healings that are attributed to his intercession. One of the miracles was the complete healing of a young girl who'd been shot in the head.

He was canonized on October 19, 2025.

Our 5th grade students filled holy water bottles in their religion classes for a special project for Greenoaks Funeral Home. Each year, the funeral home holds a religious gathering for All Saints Day. Loved ones, along with Catholic clergy in attendance, bless the graves of loved ones with the water. Thanks to Mrs. Jennifer Fisher, mother of SAS student Dane, for leading this project.
